December 1994 - Malpan Prince

Thurs 16th

Got up at a quarter to 4 and were ready to go when Charlie Clauser came to take us to the airport - uneventful flight to Atlanta and then to St Thomas - what a sight! Ultramarine & turquoise water and steep little rounded hills - 3 or 4 picture approach Malpan Prince - a very Caribbean shape lying dockside - we were first here - Mistakenly had gotten room with outside door - didn't like it, changed & settled in - A lot of little differences from CP (notably painted metal instead of wood drawers etc) but we will adjust.

No dinner served so we were off to town - Narrow streets, lots of traffic, clutter, people. Looks like a foreign town - but remember, it is US! Found fast food places and one very elegant restaurant - too elegant so we gave up, took a cab and went to Marriott Fishermans Reef Nice View!

Friday 18th

An interesting night of road work, back hoe + all, right outside our window - but we were sleepy enough to not be bothered! However, after breakfast we both fell asleep.
Out on the town - looked into several jewelry stores - So much stuff - went to VIRGILIO's for lunch - elegant wonderful place, excellent service, great charm and great food - we had soup + salad + wine $60
Afterwards we decided to walk up the hill and up and up - people live all the way to the top - the streets are very narrow + go every which way - the cars go slowly, honking at sharp turns - but still it was scary! the houses were interesting, some beautiful, the vegetation was abundant and it was VERY hot - but I loved it.

Rolled to #32 from the P deck

Supper on board - everyone is here 40 in all. Cook is Pete - same as on last trip on CP. Good intro talk by Captain at Evening Leisure

Saturday 17 December

Left St Thomas shortly after breakfast - beautiful ride out through harbor. Cruised E along Southern shore to island of St James. Bow landing for swim & Snorkle Oh glorious! (just swam - get used to things one at a time.) Little shakey on surf - low as it was - walked along beach - black basalt pebbles and much weathered white coral - few shells - although one fellow found a perfect bonnet - Back on ship - sat in sun to dry. Ship continues cruising around the North side of St John arriving about 2 in round bay. the scenery was so wonderful on the way - steep, rounded hills - anchored in Round Bay More swimming & snorkling! - Did both this time - wonderful wonderful. taken to shore by staff - had an hour & a half to play - saw wonderful things under seas! Captains cocktails & dinner - 2 drinks, 2 glasses of wine, too much - watched "Sleepless in Seattle"

Sunday 18 December

Beautiful Sleeping - dark & quiet.
Tried to do some Stargazing last night but between Full Moon & Xmas lights! it wasn't too successful!
Saw Canopus and
After breakfast we moved from Round Bay to Hurricane Hole for more snorkelling - I decided to watch & relax. Travelled on to Cruz Bay before lunch.
Tour of St Johns Island in an open air taxi - a 2½ hr tour which lasted more than 4 - What an experience. Very talkative guide who talked about plants as well as about expensive homes - gave us a lot of history which mostly had to do with the fact that most everything came from Africa. We saw the Hyatt Hotel, an old danish sugar mill, the most fabulous beaches, rocks, flowers butterflies - all from an unbelievably steep and curly road (PA was never like this) It was breathtaking in more ways than one! only disappointment - we got back too late for me to go to the NPS Visitor Center. After supper we walked around town - tropical & beautiful

Monday 19th

Left Cruz Bay at 8 and sailing around a couple of points + anchored in Francis Bay. Had all morning to swim and snorkle - everyone said it was the MOST beautiful place! I saw fishes by the hundreds, corals, sponges, Tube worms, fans, gorgons on + on in singles + in schools ---

Travelled on to Road Town on Tortola - capitol of BVI. Customs and all that. Neat looking town. After lunch we went on a tour - another bus, more hills, sharp curves, breath-taking views. Guide was an East Indian from Guiana. Not so many homes of rich people, just places where ordinary people live - Signs of farmy animals (cows, pigs, goats). Stop at the Botanic garden - interesting but too short. After the tour Joe + I walked around the shops briefly. After dinner we went back and got some post cards. Nothing much open - Another beautiful day

Tuesday 20 December

After breakfast we left Road Town and went across ⑦ the way to Salt Island - Swim + Snorkle - 2½ hrs. Native houses + palm trees - very picturesque. Other boats in bay - good snorkling but alas! I didn't go - rested after breakfast + moseyed out mid morn walked the beach - looked at corals, plants etc walked up a little path + found an old cemetary - At lunch time the Mayan Prince moved across the Drake passage to Beef Island ⑧ at the east end of Tortola - First order of business: get the glass bottom boat down. What an operation - (Daddy would have said it was a Rube Goldberg arrangement) Any way, it worked - the boat was readied + took 2 groups (± 20) out to see the animals on the reef. After that little trip Joe + I went swimming. Not very good snorkelling but I snorkeled any way for practice + for fun. Evening cocktail time was Caribbean night on the top deck - drinks on the house - pina colada + rum punch. It was very windy but very ~~beat~~ beautiful —

Bow landing on Stayed up on top deck watching - napped a little - was so tired - foggy - had trouble getting it together for breakfast. Never did get out on beach - saved up energy for afternoon -

Boat moved to Spanish Town and docked. (10) After lunch we dressed over our bathing suits, took all our gear and took off on tour of Virgin Gorda - another up + down + around island bus tour! Beautiful - each island more beautiful than last! Ended the tour at the Baths Huge granite boulders stacked every which way, large crevices, small crevices, big pools, little pools, ocean surging in and out - amazing. Very difficult to get into - half creeping, bent over - ugh - and we did not go all of the way but played around in a pool - Afterwards I snorkled from the beach - deep but a good look at many fish

thursday 22 Dec

(11) picnic on beach at prickly pear National park where boat moved after breakfast. Funny little place with a beach bar and many chaises lined up for our use. Volley ball net and other equipment. I spent most of the morning roaming around, checking out the wildlife. Our chef cooked good hamburgers on the beach. A little shrimp after lunch - we spent the rest of the day there just relaxing

Roll 32 → end

Roll 5

Bought 2 shirts $32

(12) the boat was anchored for the night away from shore lights - captain turned off Xmas lights
Great star watching - after dinner on the Top deck - I stayed up there 3 hours
Canopus

Friday 23

(12) Left anchorage off Virgen Gorda's east end - cruised NE to Anegada - low lying coral island Very windy very ~~rou~~ rolling journey! Couldn't (13) make bow landing so some people were ferried in to the beach - MP continued around to the little "settlement" and docked at the "hotel" dock - a rather (14) god forsaken place, but not without some charm. Taxis were called to take us to the snorkelling reef. 1 & 6 others rode in the back of a Truck. the sand road went for ever to the Atlantic side of the ~~isl~~ island. the snorkelling was great! Strong surges but the fish were numerous & beautiful! Also much coral

Christmas Eve
Very Tired from yesterday
my right wrist really hurt and I think it was from hanging on to the truck - couldn't get up for anything in the AM - Slept mostly Morning was spent travelling from Anegada to Little Jost
Van Dyke — A little rock + rolly Felt a little depressed - (15) After lunch we anchored near Green Cay. took a ride in the glass bottom boat — and then ferried over to the island - Good Snorkelling - Nice little island! Very Lumpy, strong surge but the fishes were plentiful + beautiful - Bath + dressed - cocktails on the house in the Lounge and then a delicious dinner of lobster tails. Captain sat at our table. After had a cigarette with Cat from Wilmington. Spent some of the evening Top side -

Sunday 25 Dec

Merry Christmas! I didn't feel very merry, but a lot of people said "Merry Christmas" and I cheered up after the boat moved to Sandy Cay. fantastic Snorkelling - oh the water feels so glorious and I just can't get enough of seeing those fishes and each time I see things I hadn't seen before. Rolls -26

(16) On to Norman Island - couple of hours - Boat anchored and we were taken in Skiff to the Caves - wonderful - the water surged in and out with the fishes + us - there were many people + many boats there but still much to see. Swam from the beach also. [this isn't quite the way the day went - had brunch at 9ish + dinner at 4 and I just can't remember when we went Snorkelling!)

(18) Anchored out for night - Had grand turkey dinner Yankee Swap Christmas presents in the evening - fun as usual

Monday 26 December

(19) Went to Peter Island in the morning – one last glorious snorkel – saw squid, trumpet fish and ballyhoes (?) (tiny narwhals!) I couldn't get out of the water..... Rolls 27-34

Sailed back to Charlotte Amalie going south of St Johns – arrive ca 2 pm. Held on board till 3pm by VI Customs! our (new) passports were not signed –

We went out on the town for a while – but it was too much of a shock

Had roast beef dinner – Capt's farewell dinner + drinks – 3 piece band on Top deck – they played good 40's music – much ambiance was there around but of course we didn't last much beyond 9:30 I checked out Campus one last time ——
